

Conflict Resolution and United States History

If you are interested in engaging classroom activities that will motivate your students and result in their learning a richer understanding of the historical background to specific We the People concepts and chapters, you may want to consider Conflict Resolution and United States History, a two-volume supplement for U.S. history teachers with an innovative teaching methodology that combines conflict resolution skills and historical role-playing.

Visit <http://civiced.rutgers.edu/CONFLICT/overview.shtml> to see a description, a sample lesson about the War with Mexico, an evaluation of the materials, and an order form. The two volumes include the following conflicts and correlate with the following We the People lessons:

Native Americans and European Colonists:	Level One, Lesson 1 Level Two, Lesson 1 (p. 5)
The American Revolution:	Level One, Lesson 5 Level Two, Lesson 1 (p. 110), Lesson 8-9 Level Three, Lesson 6
Slavery and the Constitutional Convention:	Level One, Lessons 8-9-10 Level Two, Lessons 13-14 Level Three, Lessons 9-10, Lesson 12 (pp. 88-90)
Cherokee Indian Removal:	Level Two, Lesson 16 (p. 144), Lesson 22 (p. 190) Level Three, Lesson 11 (p. 84), 33 (p. 248)
War between Mexico and the US:	Level Two, Lesson 23 Level Three, Lesson 13 (pp. 94-95), 15 (pp. 109-110)
The Compromise of 1850:	Level Three, Lessons 12, 16 (p. 115) and 17 (p. 118)
Women's Rights in the 19 th Century:	Level One, Lesson 21 Level Two, Lesson 25 Level Three, Lessons 15, 19, 20 (p. 137-138)
Post-Civil War Reconstruction:	Level One, Lesson 19 Level Two, Lesson 17 (p. 153), Lesson 25 Level Three, Lessons 15, 17 and 19
Labor Relations during the Industrial Era:	Level Two, Lesson 21 Level Three, Lesson 18 (P. 126), 30.
Imperialism, Insurrection and Intervention in 1898:	Level Three, Lesson 21 and 38
US Entry into World War I:	Level Two, Lesson 17 (p. 150) Level Three, Lesson 23
Immigration Restrictions in the 1920s:	Level One, Lesson 23 Level Two, Lesson 29 Level Three, Lessons 24, 33 and 37
Rosie the Riveter vs. G.I. Joe:	Level Two, Lesson 26 Level Three, Lessons 27 and 35
Montgomery Bus Boycott:	Level One, Lessons 19 and 21 Level Two, Lesson 26 Level Three, Lessons 19-20, 29-30, 35
The Cuban Missile Crisis:	Level Two, Lesson 28 Level Three, Lesson 23
The War in Vietnam:	Level Two, Lessons 23 and 29 Level Three, Lesson 21-23, 29
The LA Riots, 1992:	Level Two, Lessons 29-30 Level Three, Lessons 24, 26 and 27